A congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

October 2026

OUR CAPITAL CAMPAIGN BEGINS THIS MONTH

After years of discussion and planning, we are ready to launch our capital campaign, Love Makes Room, alongside our annual stewardship appeal.

While annual gifts fund our ongoing ministry, the capital campaign will address much-needed repairs and upgrades to our facilities and make it possible to refresh and remodel community spaces like our very busy library meeting-room.

*Renewing our Home.
Expanding our Welcome.*

Members of our Campaign Leadership team at their first meeting on September 15, 2026.

STATE OF THE OLIVE

All members of Mount Olive are invited and encouraged to attend our annual State of the Olive meeting on Saturday, October 3, 9:00 am - noon. We will share details of the campaign, answer your questions, and present a potential benevolence project that could support our Reconciling in Christ commitment to racial justice and shape the way we show up in the world in beautiful and courageous ways.

There will be good food, games and prizes, and a chance to connect with friends. We hope to see you! Kids are welcome to attend.

Congregational Meeting to Vote on new pastor October 11 at 11:30 am

Call Committee Ready to Extend a Call!

After completing their interview process, the Call Committee has selected the candidate which they feel is best suited to become our newest pastor! The church council has approved their choice and the next step is to bring the candidate's profile to the congregation for an official vote to extend a call. The congregational meeting for this purpose will take place on Sunday, October 11 at 11:30 am. The meeting is concurrent with our New Member Reception, so cake, punch, and other refreshments will be provided. Please plan to attend this important event. Note: no information is able to be shared in advance of this meeting due to privacy needed for all candidates.

Renewing our Home. Expanding our Welcome.

In October, we kick-off our Capital and Annual Giving Campaigns and many important events are scheduled for the month. At State of the Olive on October 3, we will share many details of how the Campaign will work and answer any questions you may have. We encourage everyone to attend. On Sunday, October 4, Pastor Steve Olson, our Campaign Consultant, will preach in Sunday worship. October 11 is Generosity Sunday and everyone will receive a packet of information about the Campaign and commitment letters for both our Annual Stewardship Drive for 2027 and our 3-year Capital Campaign. Following both services on October 11, there will also be special receptions. On October 18, there will be a Campaign Forum at 9:15 am. Campaign Leaders and staff will share more information and answer questions. November 8 is Commitment Sunday and the pledges of financial commitment will be received in worship.

Where there is no smoke, there still may be trouble (quite alarming)

The Full Council gathered on Tuesday, September 8 led by President-elect Kris Liedtke and Pastor Lisa. Council President Mark Pasch was away on vacation. Homemade salsa (hot & mild) with chips, along with brownies helped to keep the group awake and focused.

There are times when the unicorns do not dance at Council meetings. This was one of those times. Giving over the summer has been down, and several unexpected expenses have added pressure to the budget. The fire alarm system and control panel has become a bit of a burning issue. If Richard can use puns, I consider that an open invitation to share my own pun gifts. Despite continued repair and work on the system, the control/alarm panel will need to be replaced. Although we are currently in compliance, our current system lacks new technology and code updates. Custom Alarm has provided a quote, which is a substantial, sizeable, considerable, and a extensive financial hit. Okay, maybe too many adjectives but a new fire alarm system located at the entrance to our structure is needed.

On the upside, during reporting at our meeting, our Quilters have donated 100 quilts to Lutheran World Relief and in addition more than 60 quilts have been given to other organizations. Please give those superstars a thank you when you see them. Their work is truly comforting. (Yep, another pun). Another highlight is our food pantry. This is being supported by many and is well used. Well done, Mount Olive.

As a reminder to all of, Pastor Lisa has been juggling many, many spheres. Despite all the help she is given by our outstanding staff, and the pleasant arrival of Pastor Byron, her load is heavy. Whatever prayers, support, and love we can offer her, let us do so.

Loren Else, Council Secretary

New Member Sunday October 11

On Sunday, October 11, new members will be received as a part of the 10:30 am service. Following the service, there will be a receiving line and a reception before the congregational meeting mentioned above begins. If you are interested in membership, please contact Nancy Britson, Mount Olive Director of Congregational Life to complete the required paperwork and submit a photograph for the new member brochure. Thank you!

The Sunday Forum planning team is excited to present a great fall line-up of presenters coming your way. Forum is offered each Sunday at 9:15 in the Fellowship Hall. Here's the October line-up:

- October 4 - Assisi Heights Spiritual Needs Activities with Emily Watkins - Emily is the Program Director of the Assisi Heights Spirituality Center where she curates and coordinates spiritual and educational programs in an environment of hope, prayer, reflection and enrichment. She will also speak about Christian meditation.
- October 11 - Buff Grace, MN Interfaith Power and Light - Our faith guides us to respond and care for creation, but the magnitude of the issue and the myriad of ways to respond can be overwhelming. What is the best way for an individual or family to respond or what actions can they take that makes the most impact? Join MN Interfaith Power & Light's Buff Grace at Sunday Forum on October 11 for an encouraging conversation about climate change and how we can build a practice of action that is life giving and heals our relationship with the earth and one another. Buff has worked as a wilderness guide, organic farmer, and Episcopal priest.
- October 18 - Capital Campaign Update - Mount Olive Staff and members of the Campaign Leadership team will share updates about the campaign and answer questions.
- October 25 - Deacon Travis Beck presents "Saints and Souls: A History of Allhallowtide" - Many of us are familiar with Halloween as a time for trick-or-treating, dressing up in costumes, and watching scary movies. But in Western Christianity it's also the start of a three-day festival that includes All Saint's Day and All Souls Day--a time to remember the dead. In this forum, we'll explore the history of these holidays, from early Christian martyrs to Jack-o-lanterns to horror films and more.
